

Measured Building Survey Retail Stores

We have been working with retail developers for many years and have produced drawings for sites large and small. Our reputation has grown to the point where we are a preferred supplier for one of the largest companies in the country - Tesco.

Occasionally an unusual building comes along. One such was the Tesco store on the A40 into London. Although a new building this store was situated next to the existing Hoover building - a magnificent art deco construction, and was designed to compliment the original building.

Art deco is, on the face of it, beautifully simplistic. Measuring a building built in this style however, shows just how complex it can be. Numerous tall, thin windows, curves, columns and detailing all add to the overall feel but mean that accurate surveying is rather more involved than might be expected.

However, just over a week after we first set foot on site the work was completed.
